In 2016, the Learning and Work Institute (LWI) published a report called Power to the People: The Case for Personal Learning Accounts which called for every citizen to have such an account by 2022, allowing five years for implementation and piggybacking on the existing “lifelong learning accounts” run by the National Careers Service.

Are lifelong learner accounts back on the cards?

Today's careers look nothing like they did 20 or even just 10 years ago. Like technology, the field of education evolves so fast that techniques, skills and technologies become obsolete within five to 10 years. That is why being a lifelong learner plays an important role

Why Good Educators Are Lifelong Learners - EWU Online

A lifelong learner is one who typically exhibits a love of learning for its own sake, voluntarily participates in learning activities, demonstrates the ability to be self-directive and reflective, and sustains engagement in learning enterprises—qualities that are expressed regardless of personal or social circumstances.

Teachers as Lifelong Learners - Bangladesh Education Article

J. Field, in International Encyclopedia of Education (Third Edition), 2010. Ideas of lifelong learning are central influences across much educational policy. The emphasis on learning also represents a shift of attention away from inputs and toward outputs, with implications for the nature of policy development, the roles and variety of institutional actors, and the ways in which quality and ...

The Delors Report proposed an integrated vision of education based on two key paradigms: lifelong learning and the four pillars of learning. The report proposed a holistic conceptual framework of learning, that of the 'four pillars of learning'. It argued that formal education tends to emphasize the acquisition of knowledge to the detriment of other types of learning essential to sustaining ...

with other forms) and the shifts in policy and behaviour needed to establish a 'lifelong learning culture'. While there is a nod in the direction of collective experience, the focus is on the development of individualised learning (and in particular ILLAs - individual lifelong learning accounts).

Lifelong learning - infed.org:

The notion of education as a public good provided the basis in many countries for making 'free and compulsory' education available to all; proponents of education for a socially inclusive and democratic society now also claim lifelong learning as a public good (see Riche in the Grass, Nordic Council of Ministers, 1995) We do not suggest that education, like other 'public goods' such as health ...
